

For Information Contact:

Roepke Public Relations
612.677.1717
Katherine Roepke
kroepke@roepkepr.com

Melissa Bohlig
mbohlig@roepkepr.com

Kardia Health Systems Granted Motion to Prohibit Freeland Systems Sale of Assets

MINNEAPOLIS, (Feb. 12, 2010) – Today, the United States District Court enjoined Freeland Systems, LLC, from conducting a sale of Kardia Health Systems' (Kardia) software and customer lists developed since May 2008.

In September 2009, Kardia sued Freeland Systems for fraud arising out of Kardia's purchase of assets. Shortly after the Kardia lawsuit began, Freeland Systems announced its intent to sell various assets, including assets that a consultant for Kardia admitted copying before leaving Kardia last fall.

U.S. District Court Judge Patrick J. Schiltz granted in part a motion filed by Kardia to prohibit Freeland Systems from conducting a sale of customer lists and source code, object code and supporting documentation developed by Kardia since May 2008. The Court also denied Freeland Systems' request that Kardia post a bond.

Since May 2008, Kardia has developed 1,300 enhancements and features to software, now marketed as Kardia ConnectedCare™ V2. Kardia is committed to the long-term success of its customers and continues to employ the team that developed, maintained, supported, and sold all of Kardia's products during the past several years.

Customers are encouraged to upgrade to the latest version of ConnectedCare to ensure the best performance and continued support. This upgrade is available at no charge for Kardia customers who are up-to-date on their support contracts. Customers should call 1-877-4KARDIA (1-877-452-7342) or go to <http://www.kardiahealth.com/> for more information about how to upgrade.

About Kardia Health Systems, Inc.

Kardia Health Systems is a health care information technology firm, dedicated to applying the best technology from leading institutions, to revolutionize the delivery of specialty medicine. Using Internet technology and a Software-as-a-Service (SaaS) business model, Kardia makes world-class, expert technology affordable and relevant to the needs of practices of all sizes. For more information, visit www.KardiaHealth.com.

###